Abstract: Labor education is one of the important teaching tasks in colleges and universities, and also one of the main requirements for ideological and political education in colleges and universities. The connotation of labor education is that it needs to use its own labor value to educate students, so as to help students clear the meaning of labor itself, help students to love labor, respect and care for working people. Labor education itself has the characteristic educational significance of the comprehensive development of morality, intelligence, physique, the United States and labor, which can help the all-round development of students' comprehensive quality, and has a profound impact on the enrichment of contemporary young people's labor thought and spirit. Correct labor education can make up for the lack of labor consciousness of college students in the current society. Colleges and universities need to actively strengthen the integration of students' labor education and ideological and political education, actively integrate students' labor education into ideological and political education, and help colleges and universities cultivate comprehensive talents with more perfect quality for the society. This paper analyzes and studies the ways of combining labor education and ideological and political education for college students.

1. Introduction

With the development of society and the progress of economy, the demand of society for talents is increasing day by day. Contemporary college students not only need to have the corresponding professional knowledge and skills, but also should develop in an all-round way in the spirit of innovation, the practical operation of knowledge and the sense of responsibility for study and work. However, the cultivation of these qualities can not only be limited to the university textbooks. In recent years, China's educational reform has constantly proposed that ideological and political education should be carried out as an important content of educational work, which can help students understand their own sense of responsibility as a socialist successor in theory. In recent years, labor education has been clearly included in the category of comprehensive education, and its teaching form is mainly practical teaching mode. The effective combination of ideological and political education and labor education can help college students to further establish correct values of life, improve their self-quality level, and further achieve the goal of comprehensive quality education.

2. The significance of labor education in colleges and universities

2.1 Help college students establish a correct concept of labor

Labor education is of profound and important significance to college students. Labor education can help college students clarify their sense of mission as a new generation of socialist successors and their sense of responsibility as sons and daughters of China, and has an important enlightening role for college students to establish a correct concept of labor. At present, many colleges and universities have increasing requirements for ideological and political education. However, with the development and popularization of the Internet, contemporary college students are facing more and more temptations and challenges. Some ideas of instant gratification and selfish and utilitarian thoughts have imbued adverse effects on college students, and even some Internet celebrities who "show off their wealth" have emerged. It has a huge negative impact on the psychological and ideological health of college students, making some college students think that it is necessary to work less and get more. In the long run, their understanding of normal social labor and social work will be biased, and they cannot correctly understand the status quo and value significance of social labor. Colleges and universities actively carry out labor education, which can be infiltrated on the basis of ideological and political education, help students better create a good labor education environment, strengthen labor education guidance and other ways to change college students' wrong understanding of social labor, so as to help college students in the new era to be proud of labor and actively participate in the construction of socialism with Chinese characteristics. Schools can take relevant measures to effectively enhance the actual enthusiasm of college students to participate in production and social labor, help college students in the current network era, correctly choose their own information, discard negative information for fun, and further enhance their youthful vitality and ideological outlook.^[1]

2.2 Fill the shortage of labor education in contemporary education

In recent years, in the process of educational reform, most colleges and universities only pay attention to the improvement of their teaching quality. Even though colleges and universities have continuously developed ideological and political education and physical education in recent years, the integration of the two education has indeed made up for the neglect of labor education in colleges and universities, but it has not scientifically and effectively solved the actual needs of labor education in colleges and universities.

College students' lack of understanding of the meaning of labor itself and the decline of their own labor ability have an adverse effect on the future social development of our country. A considerable part of college students are faced with the problem of difficult employment, the main reason for which is not only the increasing requirements of social development and the limited employment opportunities of enterprises, but also the thought of college students themselves to work less and get more and the lack of labor spirit and other reasons have a huge impact on the employment of college students after graduation. Therefore, one of the main reasons for this problem is that some colleges and universities have certain deficiencies and weaknesses in labor education, so that college students' understanding of labor is more and more vague, and they do not have a correct understanding of the meaning of labor, nor do they have a correct judgment on the relationship between labor and themselves. Therefore, in the long run, the labor education of college students has a relatively weak problem. Major colleges and universities should actively carry out labor education and training, so as to effectively fill the gaps in labor education in colleges and universities, further enhance college students' correct understanding of labor and enthusiasm and interest in participating in social labor, assist college students to strengthen their own labor ability, and provide a good foundation and guarantee for college students to enter social positions in the future.

2.3 Improve the moral quality of students

Labor virtue has rich connotation, diligence and courage, hard work, self-improvement belong to the category of labor virtue, these are contemporary college students should inherit and carry forward the fine tradition.^[2] In today's society, the peaceful environment in which contemporary college students live, the happy and rich material life they have, and the colorful spiritual outlook are all achieved through the hard work of millions of Chinese people. The great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation requires college students in the new era to inherit and carry forward the hard work spirit of the Chinese nation, and internalize it into their own excellent quality. Contemporary college students will encounter various problems in their daily learning, school practice, practice, daily life and so on. For example, when we first enter the university, it is the stage of adaptation to life, and it is the first time to practice in a strange campus, where labor skills can be honed in daily life. When encountering these problems, college students need to have tough quality and indomitable spirit to overcome them. This requires college students to continuously improve their own quality and ability in labor education, cultivate themselves in labor education, enhance their confidence in hard work, selfless dedication, innovative and development thinking ability, and have a deep understanding of themselves, clear their own development direction and development goals, and a clear understanding of themselves. Schools should help college students further establish correct and positive labor values and inherit the excellent labor spirit and tradition of the Chinese nation.

3. Significance of the integration of labor education and ideological and political education in colleges and universities

Labor is the basic pillar for China to carry out the development of socialism, and only through labor can we realize the grand dream of the great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation. In today's era, we should create a good atmosphere in the whole society for everyone to actively participate in labor, so that everyone can play their important role in the process of building a well-off society in an all-round way.^[3]

3.1 Help college students establish correct values of life

In the ideological and political education of colleges and universities, it is very necessary and worthy of attention to correctly guide the life values of college students. However, the realization of correct life values of college students is not only related to theoretical knowledge, but also needs to be closely connected with social practice. From this we can see that labor is an important component of college students' social practice activities. It can help college students to set up correct life values. In recent years, with the reform and progress of education, the relevant education departments have taken the labor education of college students as the focus of education, and the importance of labor education is equal to ideological and political education. In college education, we usually use the theoretical knowledge of ideological and political education to cultivate the labor consciousness of college students, which has important significance and far-reaching influence on the establishment of correct labor values for college students. From the perspective of Marxist philosophy, labor is also one of the important driving forces to promote social development, as well as the source of social development, so individuals' ideological values are bound to be affected by their labor practice.^[4] In the process of forming their own life values, the cognitive ability and psychological quality generated by contemporary college students are formed in the actual participation process of social practice. College students take advantage of various labor activities to correctly interpret some thoughts and concepts and choose positive thoughts suitable for themselves. Thus, we can better realize the clear goal and meaning of ideological and political education. It can be seen that the combination and connection of labor education and ideological and political education in colleges and universities can clearly reflect the connotation and characteristics of China's socialist spirit, and can help college students effectively improve their own life values.

3.2 Help college students develop and improve their comprehensive quality

With the continuous development and progress of society, the demand for comprehensive talents is becoming more and more vigorous. The effective path and basic conditions for contemporary college students to carry out all-round development and physical and mental health growth are the effective combination and integration of labor education and ideological and political education. At present, the educational and teaching concepts and goals of many colleges and universities are changing. In the traditional college education, only the study of theoretical knowledge is often paid attention to. Nowadays, most colleges and universities pay more attention to the comprehensive education of theoretical knowledge and practical application, which plays an important role in promoting the improvement of the comprehensive quality of college students. At present, the combination of ideological and political education and labor education in colleges and universities can help college students have a full and correct understanding and respect for labor, and can help college students to use labor practice to have a real experience of theoretical knowledge in ideological and political education. Through this kind of study, it can help college students' ideological and moral level and labor quality to be comprehensively improved, and provide a good foundation for the comprehensive development of college students' comprehensive quality. In addition, the integration of labor education and ideological and political education in colleges and universities can help college students guide their labor practice through theoretical knowledge in ideological and political education, thereby helping them improve their ability to integrate disciplines from both theoretical and practical aspects, enhance their thinking level and depth, and thus help them obtain correct labor values. This can make college students in the process of learning to establish a hard-working, selfless dedication of the work spirit, the formation of good labor quality and correct labor thought.

4. Effective path of integration of labor education and ideological and political education in colleges and universities

4.1 Improve the course content design

The Central Government of China has a clear emphasis on education. If we want to promote the reform of ideological and political theory courses, we must adhere to the integration of theoretical innovation and practice, train talents with scientific theories, attach importance to the practicality of ideological and political courses, and effectively combine small ideological and political classes with large social classes.^[5] Therefore, the reform of ideological and political education should not only change the theoretical knowledge, but also combine the theoretical knowledge and practical content of ideological and political education. Labor education itself has rich practical significance, and its connotation is to explore and develop in practice, so as to exercise its own good quality and quality ability. Therefore, in the ideological and political education and labor education in colleges and universities, its own requirements are consistent. The two can be combined as a basis for each other. Therefore, the content of ideological and political education in colleges and universities is improved and updated, and the content of labor education is integrated into the ideological and political education textbooks, so that the two are integrated. The content of labor education in the ideological and political education textbooks is analyzed and mined in detail, and the theoretical level is firstly interpreted in depth. In the process of interpreting it, teachers should pay attention to not only the interpretation of labor theory knowledge in textbooks, but also a comprehensive summary and analysis of it, establish a comprehensive labor knowledge system, apply the theory of labor knowledge to practice according to the goal of labor education, and truly combine theoretical knowledge and practice.

4.2 Build channels for the integration of labor education and ideological education

The main feature of labor education is practice, and practice is also the main form of ideological and political education. It can be seen that labor education and ideological and political education are closely related not only in theory, but also in practice. If colleges and universities want to promote the effective combination of ideological and political education and labor education, they need to improve the ideological and moral level of college students through labor education and practical application. Colleges and universities need to build corresponding ways in the combination of labor education and ideological and political education, so as to effectively promote the combined development of the two. In recent years, many colleges and universities have begun to study the construction of a platform combining labor education and ideological and political education of college students, and some colleges and universities have had useful experience. First of all, colleges and universities can use their own advantages to consult relevant enterprises, realize effective exchanges with enterprises, and build a campus and enterprises interdependent support each other labor education and ideological and political education integration platform. Colleges and universities can also seek help from the government to build a good platform for the coordination and cooperation among campus, enterprise and government, so as to provide students with actual jobs similar to enterprises, and carry out diversified teaching activities targeted to further improve students' hands-on ability in social practice. Help college students to correctly apply the theoretical knowledge of ideological and political education in the actual practice process.

4.3 Strengthen the cultivation of teachers' professional quality

For students, teachers are an important guide in their study and life. Therefore, in the process of combining ideological and political education with labor education in colleges and universities, colleges and universities should actively improve the professional quality and ability of teachers, so as to add bricks to the promotion of ideological and political education and labor education. First of all, colleges and universities should actively carry out training work, encourage college teachers in relevant majors to upgrade their professional knowledge, understand the most important and forward-looking thoughts and viewpoints of ideological and political education and labor education at present, and further improve the professional level of teachers. At the same time, teachers should carry out corresponding exchanges and learning in the training process and the ordinary teaching process to truly achieve comprehensive learning. Secondly, teachers should continue to learn to enrich themselves, pay close attention to the latest labor concepts and ideological and political concepts in our country, and grasp the connotation and significance of labor education and ideological and political education at a deep level.

5. Conclusion

In summary, along with the rapid development of our country's social economy and continuous reform of education, the importance of labor education in colleges and universities is rising day by day. At present, it is very necessary for colleges and universities to integrate ideological and political education with labor education, which can not only help colleges and universities to achieve new educational goals, but also help college students to have a correct understanding and understanding of the actual connotation and far-reaching significance of labor, and help them to establish a correct concept of life value and labor value. Schools should carry out ideological and political education concepts into social labor practice, improve the comprehensive quality level of college students, further help college students to clarify their own development goals, and contribute youthful blood to the socialist development road.
