The paper first reviews the historical process of sinicization of Marxist philosophy of Marxist philosophy and points out its guiding position in China's revolution, construction and reform. With the development of The Times, the sinicization of Marxist philosophy of Marxist philosophy is facing new challenges and opportunities, which needs to be deepened and innovated on the basis of new practice. From the perspective of combining theory and practice, the paper discusses the path and method of combining Marxist philosophy with Chinese practice. Through case analysis, it shows the innovative application of Marxist philosophy in guiding the practice of socialism with Chinese characteristics, as well as the influence and contribution of Chinese Marxist philosophy to the global Marxist movement.

1. Introduction

China, a country with a civilization history of thousands of years, constantly seeks the integration of tradition and modernity, and the dialogue between home and the world in the process of its modernization. In this process, Marxist philosophy, as a scientific world outlook and methodology, has provided strong theoretical support and practical guidance for the reform and progress of Chinese society. In this process, the Communist Party of China led the people, at all historical stages of revolution, construction and reform, to combine the basic principles of Marxism with China's specific conditions, forming a system of Marxist theories with Chinese characteristics.

1.1 Historical Background and Significance of Sinicization of Marxist Philosophy of Marxist Philosophy

The sinicization of Marxist philosophy of Marxist philosophy, this historical process is not accidental, but is based on the profound historical background and the needs of The Times. At the beginning of the 20th century, China was suffering from domestic and foreign troubles, facing a deep national crisis. At this time, the introduction of Marxism brought a glimmer of vitality to Chinese society. Marxist philosophy, with its profound social insight and revolution, provides a scientific world outlook and methodology for the Chinese revolution. Under the leadership of the Communist Party of China, the combination of Marxist philosophy with the reality of the Chinese revolution not only promoted the victory of the new democratic revolution, but also provided a solid theoretical foundation for the later socialist construction^[1].

1.2 Challenges and opportunities in the current process of sinicization of Marxist philosophy

At present, China is in a new era of comprehensively building a modern socialist country. Under the background of this era, the sinicization of Marxist philosophy of Marxist philosophy is facing new challenges and opportunities. On the one hand, with the deepening development of globalization, various thoughts and cultures blend with each other, and Marxist philosophy is facing the impact and test of multicultural. How to adhere to and develop Marxist philosophy under the background of multiple culture has become an important challenge in the current process of sinicization of Marxist philosophy. At the same time, the rapid development of information technology also provides new opportunities for the sinicization of Marxist philosophy of Marxist philosophy^[2].

2. The basic principles of Marxist philosophy are combined with China's realities

The combination of the basic principles of Marxist philosophy and Chinese reality is a profound and creative process. Marxist philosophy, as a scientific world outlook and methodology, provides us with a powerful tool to understand and transform the world. China, as a country with a long history and cultural tradition, has unique social, political and economic characteristics. In the process of combining the basic principles of Marxist philosophy with China's reality, we pay attention to the guiding role of theory while giving full consideration to China's national conditions and realities.

2.1 Overview of the basic principles of Marxist philosophy

Marxist philosophy, as the theoretical basis of Marxism, is the revelation of the general laws of nature, human society and thinking. It insists on the unity of materialism and dialectics, believing that matter is the origin of the world, consciousness is the reflection of matter, and at the same time, things are generally connected and develop and change.

2.2 China's actual social, political and economic characteristics

China, as the largest developing country in the world, has its social, political and economic characteristics with distinct times and national characteristics. At the social level, China has a long history and rich cultural traditions, which all affect the values and behaviors of the contemporary society to varying degrees. It is now in a new stage of high-quality development, facing multiple tasks such as transformation and upgrading and structural adjustment^[3].

2.3 Case analysis of the combination of Marxist philosophy and Chinese reality

The combination of Marxist philosophy and Chinese reality is a process of deepening constantly. Taking China's reform and opening up as an example, this great practice was carried out under the guidance of Marxist philosophy. At the beginning of reform and opening up, in the face of complex changes in the domestic and international environment, the Communist Party of China adhered to the principle of seeking truth from facts and formulated a series of policies and measures in line with China's actual conditions. The implementation of these policies and measures has not only promoted China's economic and social development, but also enriched the practical connotation of Marxist philosophy^[4].

3. Theoretical and practical innovation of sinicization of Marxist philosophy of Marxist philosophy

At the theoretical level, the sinicization of Marxist philosophy of Marxist philosophy is committed to combining the world outlook and methodology of Marxist philosophy with Chinese traditional culture, social practice and the requirements of The Times. By deeply excavating the philosophical thoughts in Chinese traditional culture, Marxist philosophy can take root and grow in the Chinese soil, and form a Marxist theoretical system with Chinese characteristics. This system not only adheres to the basic principles of Marxism, but also embodies China's actual national conditions and cultural characteristics. At the practical level, the sinicization of Marxist philosophy of Marxist philosophy focuses on transforming the theory into a powerful weapon to guide the practice. In all the historical stages of China's revolution, construction and reform, Marxist philosophy has provided scientific theoretical guidance for the Communist Party of China^[5].

3.1 The formation and development of the theoretical system of socialism with Chinese characteristics

The system of theories of socialism with Chinese characteristics is a valuable result of long-term practice and exploration under the leadership of the Communist Party of China and the combination of Marxist philosophy with Chinese realities^[6]. This process is not only the deepening of the sinicization of Marxist philosophy of Marxist philosophy, but also the summary and promotion of China's socialist construction experience.

3.2 Innovative application of Marxist philosophy in guiding Chinese practice

Marxist philosophy, as a scientific world outlook and methodology, has been widely and in-depth applied in Chinese practice. The Communist Party of China insists on guiding China's practice with Marxist philosophy and constantly promotes innovation in theory and practice. In the economic field, the economic theory of socialism with Chinese characteristics under the guidance of Marxist philosophy emphasizes the understanding of the regularity of economic development and promotes the transformation of China's economy from high-speed growth to high-quality development^[7].

3.3 Case analysis of combining theory and practice

Taking poverty alleviation as an example, the Communist Party of China uses the basic principles of Marxist philosophy to thoroughly analyze the root causes and essence of poverty problems, and put forward the strategic thinking of targeted poverty alleviation^[8]. The theoretical and practical innovation of sinicization of Marxist philosophy of Marxist philosophy is a process of mutual promotion and common development. Through deepening theoretical research and practical exploration, we will continue to promote the new development of Marxist philosophy in China, and provide strong theoretical support and practical guidance for realizing the Chinese dream of the great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation. At the same time, we also look forward to making greater contribution to the development of global Marxism and the progress of human society by sharing China's practical experience.

4. The influence and contribution of the sinicization of Marxist philosophy of Marxist philosophy in the context of globalization

In the context of globalization, the sinicization of Marxist philosophy of Marxist philosophy has not only exerted a profound impact on China's own development, but also provided valuable experience and inspiration for the world. On the one hand, through the thorough practice of Marxist philosophy, China has successfully achieved rapid economic growth and comprehensive social progress, providing a useful development model for other developing countries. In addition, the development of Chinese philosophy also provides a new perspective and ideas for the global exchange of philosophy, and enriches the connotation of world philosophy^[9].

4.1 Challenges and opportunities of sinicization of Marxist philosophy of Marxist philosophy under the background of globalization

One of the challenges is that in the context of globalization, various ideas and cultures interact with each other, and Marxist philosophy needs to adhere to its own theoretical characteristics and guiding position in multiple cultures. This requires us to, while adhering to the basic principles of Marxist philosophy, pay more attention to the innovation and development of theories, and absorb and draw on the beneficial results of other cultures with a more open and inclusive attitude. At the same time, globalization also provides a broader space for the development of Chinese Marxist philosophy^[10].

4.2 The influence of the sinicization of Marxist philosophy of Marxist philosophy on the global Marxist movement

As an important part of Marxist theory, the Marxist philosophy of sinicization of Marxist philosophy has exerted a profound influence on the global Marxist movement. The Chinese Marxist philosophy adheres to and develops the basic principles of Marxism, and provides theoretical support and ideological weapons for the global Marxist movement. The Chinese Marxist philosophy is constantly exploring and innovating in practice, which provides rich practical experience and enlightenment for the global Marxist movement.

4.3 The Contribution of Chinese Marxist philosophy to the global governance system

Chinese Marxist philosophy has also played an important role in the global governance system. Chinese Marxist philosophy emphasizes the concept of a community with a shared future for mankind and provides an important ideological basis for global governance. It calls for all countries to jointly respond to global challenges and problems and promote the building of a fair and reasonable new international political and economic order. The Chinese Marxist philosophy focuses on social fairness and justice and the improvement of people's livelihood, providing practical guidance for global governance.

5. The Future development and prospect of the sinicization of Marxist philosophy of Marxist philosophy

In the future development and prospect, the sinicization of Marxist philosophy of Marxist philosophy will continue to deepen the combination of theory and practice, and promote the cause of socialism with Chinese characteristics. In the context of globalization, Chinese Marxist philosophy will pay more attention to the exchange and integration with other cultures to show its world significance and the value of The Times. At the same time, with the rapid development of science and technology and the deepening of social change, the Marxist philosophy of Chinese chemistry will face new practical challenges and theoretical innovation requirements^[11].

5.1 The Path and method of deepening the sinicization of Marxist philosophy of Marxist philosophy

To deepen the sinicization of Marxist philosophy of Marxist philosophy, we first need to adhere to the fundamental path of combining theory and practice. This means that we should constantly combine the basic principles of Marxist philosophy with Chinese reality, guide Chinese practice with the wisdom of philosophy, and extract new philosophical theories from practice. Therefore, it is necessary to strengthen the theoretical research of Marxist philosophy, dig into its meeting point with Chinese traditional culture, and at the same time pay attention to the practical development of contemporary China, grasp the pulse of The Times, and realize the philosophy with The Times. In terms of methods, deepening the sinicization of Marxist philosophy of Marxist philosophy requires the comprehensive use of various research methods.

5.2 Expand the research field and practice space of the sinicization of Marxist philosophy of Marxist philosophy

With the development of The Times and the deepening of practice, the research field and practice space of sinicization of Marxist philosophy of Marxist philosophy also need to be continuously expanded. In terms of research, in addition to the traditional fields of political economy, dialectical materialism and historical materialism, we should also strengthen the research on ecological civilization, scientific and technological innovation, social governance and other emerging fields, so that Marxist philosophy can better serve the development practice of contemporary China. In terms of practical space, the sinicization of Marxist philosophy of Marxist philosophy should be more deeply involved in China's modernization construction. This includes participating in the formulation and implementation of major national development strategies, providing philosophical guidance for economic and social development; participating in social governance innovation and providing philosophical thinking for solving social problems; participating in international exchanges and cooperation, and contributing Chinese wisdom to promote the construction of a community with a shared future for mankind^[12].

5.3 The role and contribution of the sinicization of Marxist philosophy of Marxist philosophy in the comprehensive construction of a modern socialist country

In the process of building a modern socialist country in an all-round way, the sinicization of Marxist philosophy of Marxist philosophy will play an indispensable role and make significant contributions. It can provide scientific theoretical guidance for the development of countries. Through in-depth study and analysis of the contradictions and problems in Chinese society, the sinicization of Marxist philosophy of Marxist philosophy can provide a scientific basis for the national policy formulation and practical innovation, and promote the smooth progress of socialist modernization.

6. Conclusion

After a long period of theoretical exploration and practice, the Marxist philosophy in China has made remarkable achievements, but there are also some shortcomings. In terms of achievements, the sinicization of Marxist philosophy of Marxist philosophy has successfully combined the basic principles of Marxism with China's reality, forming a system of philosophical theories with Chinese characteristics, and providing scientific guidance for China's revolution, construction and reform. In addition, it also promotes the modernization and transformation of Chinese traditional culture and enriches the treasure house of world philosophy. However, there are also some shortcomings. For example, in some fields, the theory and practice of Marxist philosophy are not closely combined, and theoretical innovation and practical application need to be strengthened. At the same time, in the face of the impact of multiple cultures under the background of globalization, how to maintain the characteristics and advantages of the sinicization of Marxist philosophy of Marxist philosophy is also a problem that needs to be considered in the future.
