1. Introduction

The rural grass-roots party construction is of great significance in leading the right way out of poverty [1]. First of all, it is the inherent requirement of the comprehensive and strict administration of the party to the rural grassroots. Secondly, it is the core of leadership for all kinds of undertakings [2]. The party organization at the grass-roots level is the representative of the rural advanced productive forces. Undertaking the task of leading the rural areas to accurately shake off poverty and ensure common prosperity. Grass-roots party building is a vivid practice of the party's fine tradition in the rural areas [3]. In Mianchi County, Henan Province, as a joint poor area, the party organization's precise poverty alleviation task is arduous. How to drive and lead the precise poverty relief work of Ren Cun village in Mianchi County of Henan province through the party organization construction, give play to the leading role of the party organizations in Ren Village of Mianchi County, Henan Province, and realize the great development of Ren Cun village in Mianchi County, Henan Province, is an important subject that must be further studied.

2. Analysis of the status quo of Party building in Mianchi village of Henan province leading to precise poverty alleviation

2.1. Analysis of grassroots party members, Party organizations and Party Building

- (1) Organizing the life of the Party branch of Ren Village; organizing the life meeting of the special organization.
- (2) The inspection and assessment system of organizational life in Ren Cun village.
- (3) Implementation of ideological work. The party secretary is the first responsible person.
- (4) Deepen the management of rural Party members' integral work.

2.2. Basic experience summary

In recent years, Ren Cun Township in Mianchi county has been trying to get rid of poverty and play the leading, organizing and ensuring advantages of Party building work, so as to promote precise poverty alleviation and accurately shake off poverty [4].

(1) We should enhance the political standing and lay a solid foundation for work. We should take the accuracy of poverty alleviation as a yardstick for testing the accuracy of the political stations of village Party organizations.

(2) Around the work goal, we should carry out the policy implementation. We should develop the industry to help the poor. We should combine the advantages of the geographical resources of Ren Cun village, combine the advantages and disadvantages, and focus on the development of millet, "one pepper and one medicine" edible fungus greenhouse, special livestock breeding, photovoltaic power generation and other poverty alleviation industries. First, we must implement the good industry poverty alleviation project. Secondly, we should pay attention to the development of "two pepper and one medicine" and millet planting. Third, strict project management [5]. In the aspect of fund appropriation, we must strictly follow the township reimbursement system, approve, implement, check and allocate funds in accordance with the procedures, and publicize them in townships and villages, so as to ensure that the procedures are standardized, open and transparent. Let the masses understand and feel relieved. In advancing the implementation, we should further strengthen organizational leadership, establish the responsibility system of Bao Village leadership, compaction responsibility and consolidate the task; at the same time, we must grasp the progress schedule and strengthen management guidance to ensure that the industry is effective and the masses benefit. Encourage enterprises to develop poverty alleviation posts for poor workers.

(3) Persist in problem orientation and promote rectification.

2.3. Main methods and implementation process

(1) Grasp the core and strive for breakthroughs in carrying out the responsibilities of Party building. Grasp the core of the leading group and further promote the institutionalization of "two learning and one learning" education. Adhere to the system of democratic life and organizational life, enhance the "Four Consciousnesses" of Party members, strengthen the "four self confidence" of grass-roots party organizations, enhance the combat effectiveness of Party organizations at all levels, and further improve the responsibility system of Party building target management. At the same time, the responsibility system, the time limit system and the accountability system of Party building should be implemented at all levels to further strengthen the sense of responsibility of Party organizations in grasping party building and promoting development, and form a working mechanism with strong leadership and orderly operation.

(2) Grasp the guarantee and work hard to improve the service ability. Implement the branch "star raising plan", take the "five-star striving" as the starting point, take the measures of "responsibility list, supervision normalization, and rectification and timed", and strengthen the basic work such as "three sessions and one lesson" and "four discussion two".

(3) strengthen learning and training. Train and train rural cadres in a targeted manner, conscientiously study the general secretary's spirit of addressing the series of poverty alleviation tackling difficulties and the deployment and arrangement of the provincial and municipal levels of poverty alleviation at all levels, so that the rural cadres' ideological understanding will be further improved, and then they will be pressurized, overcome weariness and fear difficulties, and carry out various efforts to tackle poverty effectively. Two, carry out skills training for poor households. Poverty alleviation is the first step to help the poor, and to carry out various rural practical skills training for poor families, enhance the concept of wealth and increase confidence.

(4) Grasp the style and discipline, clarify the list of responsibilities and rights of party conduct and clean government, and sign letters of responsibility with all village level party organizations.

We should seize the lead, pioneer the tree, innovate the management pattern of Party members, organize the villages to observe each other and exchange experiences, and promote the wide participation of ordinary people. Regular democratic appraisal of Party members and the education and management of Party members should be carried out. "71" on the eve of the selection of outstanding Party members, we will cultivate a group of exemplary party members who can usually see, can stand up at a critical moment, and can be dangerous at a critical juncture.

(5) Deepening social assistance to the poor. Taking the "China social poverty alleviation network" as an opportunity, there are currently 535 registered poor households, and 62 needs are released. The demand for help from poor people and the wishes of all sectors of society will be announced on the Internet, and a platform for effective docking between donors and donors will be set up to promote two-way interaction and achieve precise matching.

(6) Stimulate endogenous motivation; establish a positive incentive mechanism; sum up the successful experience of promoting poverty alleviation and prosperity; publicize the typical model of poverty alleviation and prosperity; guide poor people to establish values that are proud of being industrious and become rich; work hard to get rich and work hard to earn income; and focus on helping poor people get rid of ideological poverty, poverty consciousness, and implement "Zhi Zhi Shuang Fu", so as to improve their ability to get rich and increase income. We should fully mobilize the enthusiasm and participation of the poor in tackling poverty and raise the sense of satisfaction and satisfaction of the poor.

3. Path analysis of rural grassroots party construction leading to precise poverty alleviation

It is one of the most important tasks of the rural grass-roots party organizations to lead the precise elimination of poverty at the grass-roots party organizations in rural areas. Through the past few years, Ren Cun village, Mianchi County, Henan Province, has explored the rural grassroots party's leading mode of precision poverty eradication. In terms of path exploration, the rural grassroots party building work and the idea of accurate poverty alleviation are the practical topics of national governance and social governance. The grassroots party construction work of Ren Cun Township in Mianchi County of Henan province has led to the accurate elimination of poverty, catering to the opportunity of building a well-off society in an all-round way. Selecting the best and strengthening the leaders of the rural grass-roots party organizations to highlight the leading role of the party building. Finding the right path for the grass roots party building to lead the precise poverty alleviation is conducive to promoting the scientific construction of the party organizations at the grassroots level, and at the same time, is conducive to the quick implementation of the poverty alleviation strategy and the desire of the masses to get rid of poverty and become rich.

3.1. Political guidance: consolidating the leading position of the party organizations at the grass-roots level in rural areas

"Rural grass-roots party organizations are the core of all kinds of organizations and work in rural areas. This is determined by the nature and status of our party and the actual situation in rural areas." in the crucial period of deepening reform and tackling poverty, the core leadership and role of fighting fortress in rural grassroots party organizations should be strengthened. The implementation of policies at grass-roots level can not be separated from grass-roots party organizations. It is the last mile of the implementation of policies and the implementation of the specific policies and guidelines of the central government. The grass-roots party organizations, which also lead the mass autonomy of villagers committees, villagers' supervision committees, villagers' committees and all kinds of economic cooperation organizations, are the core of these organizations. Consolidating the core leadership position of rural grassroots party organizations should establish the core consciousness of rural grassroots party organizations. In practice, we should innovate ways and means of work. We must adhere to the core leadership position, adhere to all leadership, forge ahead and take the initiative to strengthen contacts and exchanges with other organizations, supervise the behavior of other organizations, and take measures to combat and clamp down on organizations that are disadvantaged by the national unity of social development.

3.2. Ideological Construction: taking firm ideals and beliefs as the primary task of Party building at the grass-roots level

The right ideological arm can guarantee the right direction of work. In the stage of tackling poverty in an accurate way, the Communists must set up a resolute and resolute struggle to overcome difficulties in order to truly play a vanguard and exemplary role, and lead the masses to get rid of poverty and become well-off. Facing the complex social environment, we should strengthen the education of belief and belief and consolidate Marx's ideology. In a timely manner, it is necessary and urgent to propose a feasible plan to enhance the ideals and beliefs of the Communists. Now that the Internet has become the main way of information dissemination, people are gradually inclined to receive fast food culture and carry out fragmented reading. Therefore, the dissemination of Marx doctrine is also facing new situations.

3.3. Industry development: relying on resource advantages to adjust measures to local conditions to promote rural industry to get rid of poverty

Located in the hinterland of the Central Plains, Mianchi, Henan, urgently needs to combine its own main function areas, rely on its own characteristics and advantages, develop resources and develop characteristic industries, improve its own development capability, enhance its hematopoietic function and realize scientific development. The development of characteristic industries is the potential of the development of Ren Cun Township, Mianchi County, Henan province. The strength of some light industries is insufficient, and the service industry has just started. It needs to concentrate advantageous industries to bring cluster benefits into play, attract other enterprises to enter, and promote the development of other industries. This is beneficial to the Mianchi County of Henan Province, which is relatively weak in economic foundation. It is not only conducive to concentrating on the major events but also improving the attractiveness of the parks. The development of the characteristic industries with precise poverty alleviation is inseparable from the strong support of the government.

3.4. Service Leadership: serving the masses with satisfaction and caring for rural development

Since the nineteen Party's Congress, we have emphasized that the fruits of development are shared by the people, and that the masses are the principles of the interests of the society. They clearly reflect the people's value proposition of a well-off society in an all-round way. Only by persisting in the value subject of the people can we better organize the masses, publicize the masses, serve the masses, and maximize the cohesion of the masses. The strategy of precise poverty alleviation is to enable poor areas, especially those in deep poverty areas to share the fruits of reform and development. The foundation of the prestige building of grass-roots party organizations is the sense of recognition of the masses. Only when the masses are highly recognized, can the masses consciously and voluntarily listen to the party's words and follow the party's way. The party's major policies and political opinions can be well implemented. The principle of mass participation should be followed at all times. Under the premise of respecting the dominant position of the masses, the masses can mobilize the masses in the most extensive way and truly realize the right to use for the people. We can organize and publicize the masses to take the initiative to get rid of poverty and become rich. The grass-roots party organizations in rural areas serve the goal of helping the masses get rid of poverty and become rich.

4. Countermeasures and methods of Party building in Mianchi village, Henan Province, leading to precise poverty alleviation

By vigorously implementing the rural grass-roots party organizations to achieve the political and economic leading ability of the rural grass-roots party organizations, we should try every means to improve the combat effectiveness of the grass-roots party organizations in the countryside. At present, the construction of the rural grassroots party organizations is getting better and better, and the key period for the final sprint is to get rid of poverty.

4.1. We must make good use of the cadre standards and strengthen the building of the leaders of the grass-roots party organizations

General secretary Xi Jinping stressed the five criteria for good cadres: "good cadres should be firm in their beliefs, serve the people, be diligent and pragmatic, dare to take responsibility and be honest and clean." the five standards of good cadres have made clear provisions for the broad masses of cadres and cadres from the following aspects: the firm belief, the sense of responsibility, the attitude and standards of cadres' Entrepreneurship and the basic requirements of cadres. Five cadres of cadres are required to do the work. The Ministry is the requirement of the development of the times and the requirement of strict administration of the party. The selection of cadres with the five criteria of good cadres can always maintain the purity and advancement of the ranks of cadres.

4.2. Establish the concept of "party building +", and build a new joint effort to accurately help the poor in rural areas

Xi Jinping, general secretary of the nineteen major work report, pointed out: at present, the main contradiction of our society has become "the contradiction between the growing needs of people's life and the development of imbalances."

From March 2017 to May, the year of the grassroots of Ren Cun Township in Mianchi County of Henan province was changed. There were many unsuccessful events in the village, and there were also sequelae of letters and visits. In the cleaning up stage of subsistence allowances, the resignation of village branch secretaries also appeared.

Some poor villages have difficulties in industrial development. Up to now, thirty percent of the village collective economy is still hopeless. In view of the existing problems, we must seize the line of building grass-roots party organizations, innovate the mode, and give full play to the role of grassroots party organizations in leading the precise poverty alleviation. In order to build a service-oriented party organization, we must do a good job of Party members' ideological education, so that party members and cadres can go deep into the masses, do what is urgent for the masses and think of the masses, so that we can establish prestige and build a mass foundation and lay the foundation for the development of other work.

4.3. Strengthen regular education management and training of characteristic industries for rural grassroots party members

The education and training of Party members are the most important means to keep Party members advanced and improve the quality of Party members and let Party members keep pace with the times. The times are changing, difficulties and challenges are changing. Only through continuous learning can party members grasp the most advanced productivity and mode of production. Since the eighteen Party's Congress, the Party Central Committee headed by general secretary Xi Jinping has attached great importance to Party member education. A series of Party members' educational activities have been carried out: mass education route practice, three strict and three real thematic activities, two learning and one educational practice, one link is closely linked to one link. Top and bottom party members' educational activities have been continuously promoted. Indeed, they have played the role of "bathing, curing and curing diseases" for Party members and cadres, and won the praise and recognition of the masses.

5. Conclusion

At the request of building a well-off society in an all-round way and winning the battle against poverty, grass-roots party organizations bear the brunt and lead the masses to get rid of poverty and become rich. In the new era, the role of the rural grassroots party organizations in leading the rural development is more prominent, which calls for continuous exertion of the role of grassroots party organizations in the fight against poverty. We also found a way to achieve the goal of accurately eliminating poverty by Party building, and provide a realistic basis for promoting the development of grassroots party building in Mianchi village of Henan province and the accurate elimination of poverty. Precise poverty alleviation work is inseparable from the party organization's escort. The higher the quality of the grass-roots party organizations, the better it can achieve the goal of poverty eradication. In Henan County, Mianchi County, accurate poverty relief requires a strong organization to lead.

The following conclusions are drawn from the study of rural grassroots party construction in Ren Cun Township, Mianchi County, Henan province.

(1) The framework of rural grassroots party construction in Mianchi County, Henan Province, has led to the establishment of a precise poverty alleviation framework.

(2) The grassroots party construction of Ren Cun Township, Mianchi County, Henan Province, should lead to the accurate elimination of poverty. We should focus on solving the problem of core consciousness and weak ability of the party organization, innovating the working mode and finding effective working methods.

(3) For the rural grass-roots party construction in Mianchi County of Henan Province, the way and method of leading the precise poverty alleviation in the rural areas should be mainly studied in the following research. First, how to set up the evaluation mechanism more scientifically.
