Abstract: Aiming at the educational task of IAPTC in polytechnic, this requires that IAPTC consciously integrate the requirements of strengthening ambition, cultivating backbone and consolidating foundation into teaching practice. This paper expounds the Enlightenment of the spirit of the "July 1 important speech" to the IAPTC in polytechnic from three aspects.

1. Introduction

The general secretary Xi pointed out at the general meeting On July 1 2021, to celebrate the 100th anniversary of the founding of the CPC: "the tomorrow belongs to young people, and hope rests on them. Chinese young people in the new times should realize the great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation, enhance the ambition, backbone and foundation of the Chinese people, and live up to the times, youth and the ardent expectations of the party and the people. ^[1]"This is not only a deep hope for youth, but also a clear direction for youth development. Subsequently, the general office of the CPC Central Committee issued a notice requiring Party committees at all levels to take the important speech on July 1 as the main content of study, integrate the spirit of the speech into the relevant contents of Ideological education at large, medium and small levels, and accelerate the spirit of the speech into teaching materials, classrooms and minds ^[2]. Aiming at the educational function and development needs of IAPTC in polytechnic, we should deeply understand the spirit of the general secretary Xi's July 1 important speech and strive to cultivate higher vocational college students into Chinese New Youth with ambition, backbone and confidence. The "study meeting" combines the education of party history with the IAPTC (10 minutes are reserved before each class starts). Teachers of IAPTC are guided by reviewing history with passion, and college students listen to history attentively as historians.

2. The core content and theoretical interpretation of the general secretary's "July 1 important speech"

To deeply understand the spirit of the general secretary's important speech on July 1, we need to firmly grasp a "Declaration", deeply understand a "theme", carefully understand the 32 character "spirit" and closely follow the core meaning of the nine "must". A "Declaration" is that China has reached the first Centennial goal and is moving towards the second Centennial goal in high spirits. A "theme" has always run through the hundred year struggle of the Communist Party of China. All struggle, sacrifice and creation are ultimately for one theme: realizing the grand revive of the Chinese nation. The 32 character "spirit" makes a concrete and vivid summary of the party building spirit, adhering to the truth, adhering to the ideal, practicing the original intention, undertaking the mission, fearing no die, fighting with courageous, being faithful to the party and being worthy of the people. In the course of the party's struggle, a series of great spirits have emerged, such as long march spirit, craftsman spirit, flood fighting spirit, women's volleyball spirit, manned space flight spirit, etc. These great spirits together compile the spiritual pedigree of the Chinese Communists^[3].

The nine "must" answers several questions in China's development in an all-round way, such as leadership core, theoretical guidance, external environment and so on. This is not only an experience summary of our party's hundred years of struggle, but also an action guide for future development. In short, the general secretary's "July 1 important speech" pointed out the orientation for the future development of Chinese society.

3. The connotation of IAPE contained in the general secretary's "July 1 important speech".

In the important speech of July 1st, the general secretary made an important exposition on the education and growth of youth groups, instructing Chinese youth in the new times to take it as their own duty to realize the great revive of the Chinese nation, strengthen the ambition, backbone and foundation of the Chinese nation, and be worthy of the ardent expectations of the times, youth, the party and the people! This is the second time that General Secretary Xi has encouraged young people to be full of ambition, confidence and backbone after the inspection of Tsinghua University. This shows that "cultivating ambitious, confident and backbone young people in the new era" is not only a very important educational proposition, but also an important direction of IAPE in universities.

The basic connotation of "ambition" is: practical action, far realm and high position. It corresponds to the practical problems existing in the youth group: boasting, fearing in the face of things and seeing through a hole. The basic connotation of "backbone" is: loyalty, courage and perseverance, abrasion resistance, which corresponds to the practical problems existing in the youth group: exquisite egoism, weak will and lying flat and discouraged. The basic connotation of "foundation" is: thick knowledge, strong practice and erudition. It corresponds to the practical problems existing in the youth group: shallow knowledge, ungrounded spirit and less accumulation. In the actual ideological, political and political education cause, we should clarify the different directions of the youth groups rich in "three Qi", teach them according to their aptitude and have a definite aim, so as to make the goal of ideological guidance work more focused and targeted, and truly complete the educational task of Building Morality and cultivating people^[4].

4. The application enlightenment of the spirit of the general secretary's "July 1 important speech" to the IAPTC in polytechnic Contemporary college students are the principal force of youth in the new era. It is an important content of IAPTC in colleges and universities to cultivate contemporary college students into young people with ambition, confidence and backbone. How to make contemporary college students deeply understand the CPC and the rising China from the century-long struggle is both a test and an important task for IAPTC teachers. Incorporate the spirit of the "July 1st important speech" of the general secretary into the teaching of IAPTC, guide contemporary college students to integrate youth struggle into the cause of the party and the people, and contribute to the great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation. As an IAPTC teacher in polytechnic, training college students with ambition, self-confidence and backbone in the new period has some enlightenment for the teaching of ideological and political theory. This paper expounds the application enlightenment of the spirit of "the important speech on July 1st" to ideological and political theory courses in higher vocational colleges from three aspects. IAPTC in higher vocational colleges should learn the history of the party for a hundred years and set up lofty ideals. Only when Chinese youth are ambitious can China achieve stability and long-term development in the future. Learn the history of the party and be ambitious. IAPTC should be good at strengthening the young people's ambition and spirit by studying the party history. For this reason, the teaching group of IAPTC in our school specially set up the "Learning Society of Socialism with Chinese Characteristics in the New Era" (hereinafter referred to as the "Learning Society"). The "Learning Club" is composed of Communist Youth League members, cadres of the Youth League Committee, party activists, party members and teachers of IAPTC. Learn the surname Ma, learn Ma, learn Ma and use Ma. The "study meeting" combines the education of party history with the IAPTC (10 minutes are reserved before each class starts). Teachers of IAPTC are guided by reviewing history with passion, and college students listen to history attentively as historians. Take the "Learning Club" as the supervisor and recognize the supervision effect. After class, through the combination of online questionnaire survey and offline interview survey, evaluate the learning effect of students' party history, and strive to do a good job in the combination of party history education^[5].

Focus on studying party history, grow ambition and strengthen the leading role of IAPTC. The IAPTC injects red genes through the combination of "integrity" and "difference", resolutely resists the "lying flat culture", "Feminization" and "funeral culture" existing in the youth group, and stimulates the young students to establish the ambition of "strengthening the country with me"!^[6] Through the historical view of "illegal past does not follow the present", lead students to cut into the rule of law from a broad perspective and understand its historical, theoretical and practical basis.

5. Conclusion

In his important speech on July 1, the general secretary Xi embodied the principles and connotation of IAPTE. Polytechnic should actively practice the IAPTE practice of "enhancing the ambition, backbone and confidence of young students", implement the educational task of Building Morality and cultivating people, and comprehensively improve the comprehensive quality of higher vocational college students.
