Abstract: The history of the Communist Party of China not only provides a lot of resources for ideological and governmental schooling in universities, but also as the main content of its work, severely cracks down on the theory of historical nihilism, and makes great contributions to cultivating successors to the cause of Chinese characteristics. Carrying out party history schooling can increase the knowledge reserve of college students and promote the healthy growth of college students. However, there are some influencing factors in the party history schooling in universities in the new era, so that the effect of party history schooling is not good. Through the study and schooling of party history, we can establish a correct view of party history for college students in the new era, provide inexhaustible spiritual power and establish a firm sense of mission. The learning orientation of the masses and serving the reality. Student party members are the new force in the ranks of the Chinese Communist Party, and they are also the hope of ensuring the prosperity of the party's cause. In the new era, in view of the new situation and new problems faced by the schooling of student party members in universities, it is an vital task to strengthen and improve the schooling of party history to strengthen the schooling of student party members.

1. Introduction

In the course of more than 90 years of struggle, the Communist Party of China, through the great baptism of revolution, construction and reform, has established immortal achievements and accumulated valuable historical experience for the independence of the Chinese nation, the liberation of the people and the prosperity of the country. Party history schooling is an vital part of ideological and governmental schooling in universities. The implementation of party history schooling can cultivate college students' patriotism and help college students establish correct values [1]. Only when college students adhere to Marxist thought and socialist ideas can they become qualified successors of socialism with Chinese characteristics and builders of modernization, and can shoulder the burden of the great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation. As the precious spiritual wealth of the Communist Party of China and the Chinese nation, the history of the party occupies a special position in the ideological and governmental work and general history schooling in universities [2]. Party history is a vivid teaching material for ideological and governmental schooling, and it is also an vital carrier for cultivating the world outlook, outlook on life and values of young students in universities. Today's young people are in a period of unprecedented changes in the world and the historical intersection of the "two centenary goals". It is the inescapable responsibility and obligation of every young student to learn party history well. College students can sublimate their thinking in the process of learning party history. It plays an vital guiding role in the life of college students. The glorious history of the Communist Party of China represents not only the precious experience of its hard work, but also the cultural heritage of the Chinese nation, which can promote the future burgeon of the Chinese nation and the construction of socialist modernization [3]. Therefore, in-depth burgeon of party history learning and schooling in universities must firmly grasp the requirements of learning party history, understanding ideas, doing practical things, and opening new situations, so as to understand history, increase trust, learn history, and practice history [4].

2. The necessity of strengthening and improving party history schooling

2.1. Establish a correct view of history for college students

There are many contents of ideological and governmental schooling, and party history schooling is one of them. The "Outline of Modern and Contemporary Chinese History" introduces the history of our country since modern times. On this basis, "Party History Learning and Education" further deepens and systematically conducts a special study on the history of the Communist Party's century-old struggle. my country's burgeon has a clearer understanding [5]. Party history schooling is an vital part of ideological and governmental schooling. It is necessary to guide students to deeply understand the burgeon context of modern China, deeply understand the party's hard work and outstanding achievements, and deeply understand the great achievements of the continuous deepening of Marxism in China, so as to form a correct historical identity [6]. Strengthening and improving party history schooling will help student party members establish a correct world outlook, outlook on life, and values, enhance service awareness, and take the lead as a vanguard. Since the reform and opening up, with the rapid burgeon of economic globalization and market economy, people's social life has undergone tremendous changes.

Party history is a vivid teaching material for ideological and governmental schooling, and it is also an vital carrier for cultivating the world outlook, outlook on life and values of young students in universities. Today's young people are in a period of unprecedented changes in the world and the historical intersection of the "two centenary goals". It is the inescapable responsibility and obligation of every young student to learn party history well. College students can sublimate their thinking in the process of learning party history. It plays an vital guiding role in the life of college students [7]. The exchanges between countries are getting deeper and deeper, and many foreign ideas have poured into our country. There are some wrong thoughts in these ideas, which have a certain impact on the psychology and values of college students. Carrying out party history schooling can effectively resist the wrong trend of thought. By sorting out the party history, it can enhance the understanding of college students and establish a correct view of history [8]. The university stage is a critical period for a person's growth. At this stage, students must step up their historical literacy, sort out the macro structure of the century-old party history, and take a clear-cut stand against all kinds of "unofficial history" and "pseudo-history", so as to establish a correct party history. historical view.

2.2. Provide inexhaustible spiritual power for college students

At this stage, the post-95s and post-00s are the main force of college students. These college students have strong independence, active thinking, and can obtain more information. These college students are in the transition stage from campus to society, and have not yet formed an independent and correct Outlook on life, values, and ability to distinguish need to be improved [9]. This part of the group is in the transition stage from the campus to the society, the "three views" have not yet been fully formed, and the ability to think and distinguish needs to be improved. "Mourning" has become a high-frequency word in college students' social discourse [10]. Our party has always attached great importance to the study of party history by party members and cadres, and regarded the study of party history as an ideological weapon for ideological and political education, establishing a firm revolutionary belief, maintaining the vitality of the party and advancing the cause of the party [11].

In the 100-year history of the Communist Party of China, the Chinese Communists have led the people of all ethnic groups in the country to work tirelessly and persistently to carry out revolution, construction, and reform. Cowardly when faced with the pressure of study, life and work, it is not in line with the temperament of young people. Carrying out party history education in the new era and reviewing the party's century-old struggle history can help college students better understand history [13]. In the new era, in-depth study and education of party history, reviewing the party's centuries of struggle, and reviewing the vicissitudes of the century, can not only make college students cherish the hard-won achievements in construction, but also cherish today's good times; The heroic deeds of the school have minimized the ideological confusion of young students, swept away the filthy atmosphere that cannot be removed, revitalized the self-confidence of young students, and transformed the great revolutionary spirit contained in the shining party history into nourishing Xin. The spiritual nourishment of the students.

3. The implementation path of party history schooling in universities

3.1. Optimize the curriculum

Colleges and universities should increase the number of ideological and governmental courses when carrying out party history schooling, so as to lay a good foundation for party history schooling. After adding courses, teachers' teaching time also increases, which can effectively avoid the emergence of selective teaching. Play the schooling function of the red base. Make full use of the schooling resources of the Revolutionary Museum, Memorial Hall, Party History Museum, and Martyrs Cemetery, hold various homage, commemoration and visiting activities, remember the great achievements of the ancestors through "immersive experience", and strengthen the schooling of revolutionary traditions, patriotism and ideology and morality Education, inheriting the red gene, and practicing the original mission in an immersive situation. Further integrate party history schooling into ideological and governmental theory courses in universities, and increase the proportion of party history schooling in ideological and governmental theory courses. To carry out party history learning and schooling in universities, classroom teaching is the main channel. For student party members, classroom teaching mainly includes ideological and governmental courses, party school training and party history lectures, as well as the theme party courses in the "three meetings and one class". The three types of classrooms allow student party members to learn the party history most directly and profoundly, impress students from the bottom of their hearts, and stimulate their enthusiasm for learning party history.

Teachers can comprehensively carry out party history schooling, so that students have a deeper understanding and mastery of party history knowledge. In addition to the classroom, universities also need to innovate the way of party history schooling. For example, they can hold relevant special lectures on "Century Party History", and invite party school teachers to explain relevant knowledge. Compared with classroom lectures, special lectures are more lively and lively. Participation is more active. Play the schooling function of practical activities. By carrying out activities such as "Three Going to the Countryside", "Party History Entering the Community", "Salute Model" Volunteer Labor, Voluntary Maintenance and other activities in the summer vacation, go deep into the grassroots, go deep into the society, and go deep into the front-line practice learning, "schooling in practice", let college students Receive schooling through personal experience, cultivate faith through subtle influence, and develop a sense of responsibility through practical exercise. Ideological and governmental teachers have strong professionalism, and can organically integrate relevant content or elements of party history into the ideological and governmental courses they teach, and thoroughly explain the "party history" principles contained in the courses they teach.

3.2. Innovating the Party History Education Model

The traditional schooling model has been unable to meet the needs of the burgeon of party history schooling in the new era. Colleges and universities should innovate the existing teaching model when carrying out party history schooling, make full use of new media, and allow students to better participate in classroom activities. Party history schooling must be promoted online. The new media spreads fast, wide and influential among students. Make full use of the school's official website, Weibo, WeChat public account, Douyin account, Kuaishou account and other new media matrix, under the premise of adhering to the correct content and orientation, present the party history knowledge in a form suitable for Internet dissemination, and realize the party history. Information resource sharing. The management of knowledge is shown in Figure 1.

At the same time, it is clear from the source, preventing "bad money driving out good money", and guiding positive and healthy online public opinion. In the new era, in view of the new situation and new characteristics of students' party members and classmates, universities should not only attach importance to party history schooling from a conceptual perspective, but also start from the concept of innovating, strengthening and improving party history schooling, actively changing the way of party history schooling, relying on students. The party branch is the carrier of schooling. It attracts party members and students to study and pay attention to the history of the party through various activities, stimulates the enthusiasm of party members and students to learn, further enhances the students' party members' understanding of party history, and effectively plays the role of party history schooling in student party members' thinking. vital role in governmental schooling. Colleges and universities should focus on the principles of Marxism and the great spirit contained in party history, and create online and offline "concentric circles" for party history learning and schooling. In party history schooling activities, teachers can use textbook knowledge as the basis, collect current hot events in combination with the Internet, and combine teaching content with social events, which can not only enhance the interest of teaching, but also cultivate students' habit of caring about social focus. . The relationship between "schooling informatization" and "informatization teaching" in the schooling information system is shown in Figure 2.

Colleges and universities should firmly grasp the main battlefield of publicity on the Internet and new media, carry out publicity and schooling on the history of the party through WeChat public platforms, Weibo and other means, increase exchanges and interactions with party members and classmates on the Internet and new media, and form an A harmonious atmosphere of mutual learning. Not only that, teachers can also use micro-classes, flipped classrooms and other methods to interact with students, allowing more students to participate in teaching activities and enhancing the appeal of party history schooling to students. Teachers also need to enhance students' information screening ability. The Internet is full of various information. College students should distinguish right from wrong and avoid the situation of value deviation caused by wrong ideas.

4. Conclusions

The history of the party is the treasure of the Chinese nation and occupies an vital position in the ideological and governmental schooling in universities. Party history schooling plays an vital role, and actively carrying out party history schooling can help college students establish correct values and better resist the influence of bad thoughts. Party history schooling must be promoted online. The new media spreads fast, wide and influential among students. Make full use of the school's official website, Weibo, WeChat public account, Douyin account, Kuaishou account and other new media matrix, under the premise of adhering to the correct content and orientation, present the party history knowledge in a form suitable for Internet dissemination, and realize the party history. Information resource sharing. Young people are the most active and energetic force in the whole society. The hope of the country lies in the youth, and the future of the nation lies in the youth. Colleges and universities are vital positions for the burgeon of party history learning and schooling. Student party members, as the reserve army for the future construction and burgeon of the party and the country, are indispensable to their normalized party history learning and schooling. Therefore, in order to achieve the purpose of "learning from history and educating people from government", universities must deeply recognize the main position of party history schooling in classroom teaching, spread the history of the party's struggle, give full play to the role of party history schooling, and better understand Chinese history. Pass it down and train qualified successors for socialism.
